Standard for Risk Concerns for Interoperable Medical Products

Approved 20 May 2022 by
AAMI

Approved 10 June 2022 by
American National Standards Institute, Inc.

Abstract: Specifies a baseline set of requirements for assuring safe and secure interoperability for Interoperable Medical Systems.

Keywords: interoperability requirements, medical systems, medical devices, interoperable systems

Commitment for Amendments

This Standard is issued jointly by the Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation (AAMI) and Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL). Comments or proposals for revisions or any part of the standard may be submitted to AAMI and/or UL at any time. Revisions to this Standard will be made only after processing according to the Standards development procedures of AAMI and UL.

AAMI Standard

This Association for the Advancement of Medical Instrumentation (AAMI) standard implies a consensus of those substantially concerned with its scope and provisions. The existence of an AAMI standard does not in any respect preclude anyone, whether they have approved the standard or not, from manufacturing, marketing, purchasing, or using products, processes, or procedures not conforming to the standard. AAMI standards are subject to periodic review, and users are cautioned to obtain the latest editions.

CAUTION NOTICE: This AAMI standard may be revised or withdrawn at any time. AAMI procedures require that action be taken to reaffirm, revise, or withdraw this standard no later than five years from the date of publication. Interested parties may obtain current information on all AAMI standards by calling or writing AAMI.

All AAMI standards, recommended practices, technical information reports, and other types of technical documents developed by AAMI are voluntary, and their application is solely within the discretion and professional judgment of the user of the document. Occasionally, voluntary technical documents are adopted by government regulatory agencies or procurement authorities, in which case the adopting agency is responsible for enforcement of its rules and regulations.
